Poultry in Motion: Warren T. Jackson Elementary holds annual Turkey Trot.

Atlanta, GA: On Saturday morning, November 10, the students of Warren T. Jackson Elementary were served their turkey early this year, as the tenth annual Turkey Trot Fun Run took off.

The beautiful fall day served as the perfect backdrop for the race and its almost 300 participants. Individual races were held by grades K-5, with an open category for former alumni, parents and friends of the school.

The participants were treated to a pre-race stretch and warm up by IMAGYM Kids Play and Fitness. <sup>3</sup>This is a great event to help promote healthy, active lifestyles that children and their families can participate in together," explained Nancy Bolden, Race Co-Chair.

First place winners in each category were awarded a Thanksgiving turkey from Allison Sinkler of Harry Norman Realtors.

Scott and Hallie Kirkman, a father-daughter team from Jackson, each won their race category and brought home two of the prized turkeys. Mom, Mrs. Rosanne Kirkman, is busy thinking up turkey left-over recipes this year.
